

Mortars Hammer At Guns

Three Attacks Keep Pressure On Marines

SAIGON (AP) — Communist mortars hammered again at the big American guns just south of the demilitarized zone today with 500 shells in three attacks as they kept up pressure on U.S. Marines operating in the area.

The shelling of Camp Carroll, latest in a series of such attacks, killed six Marines and wounded 15 but damaged none of the powerful 175mm guns with which the Marines shell North Vietnam and the demilitarized zone, a U.S. spokesman said.

The Communist failure to hit the big guns was attributed to the elaborate defenses which the Americans on the plateau eight and a half miles south of the demilitarized zone have thrown up for the artillery.

Counter-mortar fire resulted in one secondary explosion in the hills from which the Communists were firing, a U.S. spokesman said.

U.S. spokesmen reported 14 Americans killed, 44 wounded and four missing in ground actions Monday and Tuesday, along with 61 Communist dead.

Two sizeable ground clashes were reported.

Several miles north of Camp Carroll a Marine patrol made contact with the Communists. Several companies of Marines were rushed up as reinforcements, and contact was maintained through the night, but the enemy — believed to be North Vietnamese troops — escaped this morning, a U.S. spokesman said.

In the other significant ground action, a U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airborne, company in Binh Dinh Province came under heavy automatic-weapons fire from an estimated company of Viet Cong and called in air and artillery strikes. The firefight continued all day, but the enemy broke off in the early evening. A preliminary report said seven Americans and 50 Viet Cong were killed and 17 Americans were wounded.

Bad weather again hampered air attacks against North Vietnam Monday, with only 48 strike and armed reconnaissance missions reported.

By 23-9 Vote

Hearnes' Toll Road Bill Advanced To House Today

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' toll road proposal passed the Missouri Senate today.

The vote sending it to the House was 23-9 with all but one of the dissenters Republicans. Sen. Thomas G. Woolsey, R-Versailles, called the bill creating a turnpike authority a monstrosity. He said the governor, as a member of the authority along with the highway commission, would have complete control.

And that could be very bad, he said, if Missouri ever got a governor who would use toll road construction for political purposes.

Both Woolsey and Sen. Jack Curtis, R-Springfield, criticized a provision that would allow highway funds to be pledged to help pay off revenue bonds issued to finance toll turnpikes.

Curtis predicted that would result in curtailment of the free road program.

But Sen. Albert M. Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau, defended the bill as the only way to get good highways.

He said he had received hundreds of letters and phone calls from southeastern Missouri "people who want this bill. . . they realize that the only way they are going to get from southeastern Missouri to St. Louis, Kansas City, Jefferson City and the lake area is through toll roads."

Spradling charged the legislature had been derelict in not providing the funds sufficient to build good highways. And he predicted it would be impossible to get a gasoline tax increase through the legislature.

In quick action after approving the toll road proposal the Senate passed, 31-1, a bill to increase state aid to public schools under the foundation program an estimated $9,975,000 a year.

The only opposition came from Sen. John E. Downs, D-St. Joseph, who called it simply "a $100 million pay increase for teachers over the next 10 years."

The bill was recommended by the governor. Now it goes to the House.

The Senate sponsor, Sen. A. Basye Vanlandingham, D-Columbia, said instead the bill would improve public education in the state.

Also passed by the Senate and sent to the House were bills to:

Give St. Louis County full home rule powers under a constitutional amendment that would require voter approval before the county charter could be changed.

Give the legislature some authority to approve or disapprove any orders by the governor reorganizing the alignment of state agencies in the various departments.

Legalize the shift of the civil defense and emergency planning agencies to the adjutant general's office—something that was done by executive order last October.

Wheat Plan Applications Due Mar. 17

Growers were reminded today that March 17 is the last day for filing applications to take part in the 1967 voluntary wheat program, Samuel Hieronymus, Chairman, Pettis County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, points out that signing up is the first necessary step in qualifying for price-support loans and marketing certificate on 1967-crop wheat. No acreage diversion is provided under the 1967 wheat program.

The national average price-support loan rate for 1967 crop wheat is $1.25 per bushel, available on all the wheat produced on a participating farm (but not on wheat stored under the excess provision). The marketing certificate will be based on 100 per cent of parity as of July 1, 1967, less the announced national average loan level of $1.25 per bushel; the certificate will be available on 35 per cent (Please turn to Page 4, Col. 8)

Deadline On Feed Grain Applications

Friday is the last day growers may file applications to take part in the 1967 feed grain program.

Samuel Hieronymus, Chairman, Pettis County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, points out that only growers who participate in the program will be eligible for price support on their 1967 crops of corn and grain sorghums. As last year, the support is made available through loans, purchases, and price-support payments.

Except on small farms, farms with bases of 25 acres or less, and some farms with larger bases where no feed grain is to be planted, no diversion payment is available under the 1967 feed grain program. The price - support payments, 30 cents per bushel for corn and 53 cents per hundredweight for grain sorghum, may be earned on the projected production from an acreage up to 50 per cent of the farm's total feed grain base by planting corn or grain sorghums, or by planting soybeans in lieu of these feed grains. The national average loan rates are $1.05 per bushel for corn and $1.61 per hundredweight for grain sorghum.

If the grower wishes, he may request, at the time he signs up, an advance payment of one-half of the total estimated price support and diversion (for small farms) payments to be earned.

The chairman urges farmers who are interested in taking part in this year's feed grain program to call at the ASCS county office as soon as possible, since there are only a few working days left before the sign-up deadline, and signing up is a necessary first step in program participation. Applications may be filed any day Monday through Friday. Office hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sign-up deadline is March 17, 1967.

Hughesville Girl Facing Drug Charge

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A charge of illegal possession of marijuana was filed against a University of Missouri coed following a search of her Columbia apartment Monday night.

Frank Conley, the Boone County prosecutor, identified the student as Mary Louise Monsees, 21, of Hughesville, Mo. Miss Monsees' apartment yielded 1 pound and 9 ounces of marijuana, valued at $1,500, Police Chief Paul Cheavens said.

She is a student in the university's social work department. The search was conducted by city detectives and sheriff's deputies.

Conley said there would be other arrests. He has been conducting an investigation of clandestine marijuana traffic in the county since last year.

A former university coed, Charlene Jean Hulsey, 20, was arrested in November and charged with possession and sale of marijuana.

Release Film On Tax Aids For Showing

Some of the problems that confront American taxpayers in preparing and filing their annual Federal income tax returns are treated briefly and simply in a new half-hour film just released by the Internal Revenue Service, Mr. E. P. Trainor, District Director, St. Louis, Mo., Internal Revenue Service said today.

The film is available to civic or professional organizations who may wish to present it to their membership. Mr. Trainor said there is no charge for the use of the film but early reservations are advisable because of the limited number of prints available.

The 27 minute film in 16 mm color entitled "Garroway Talks Taxes" has a new approach that features Dave Garroway who discusses tax forms, instructions and tax saving facts which taxpayers need to know. This film uses some typical community and family situations to illustrate the preparation of correct tax returns.

This film may be obtained for showing in the State of Missouri area by calling George L. Dodd, District Information Officer, St. Louis, Mo. Main 2-5661 or by writing to Internal Revenue Service, P.O. Box 1740, Plaza Station, St. Louis, Mo. 63199.

Hoffa Begins Term

Jury Tampering Sentence For Union Boss Starts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, fingerprinted and handcuffed, was whisked off to prison today to begin serving his eight-year federal jury tampering sentence.

The short, burly 54-year-old Hoffa had a weak smile and a brief interview claiming a "conspiracy" to put him behind bars, then made a last defiant spitting motion toward newsmen as he started by car for the Federal Penitentiary in Lewisburg, Pa.

Train Crash Injures 100 In Boston

Elevated Slams Against Rear Of Stopped Train

BOSTON (AP) —More than 100 persons were injured today when an elevated train slammed against the rear of another train halted at a station in Boston's historic Charlestown section.

No one was reported to be critically injured.

Massachusetts General Hospital said 55 persons were brought to its emergency department. A hospital spokesman said most of the injuries were cuts, strains and back injuries — "relatively minor."

Boston City Hospital said 41 persons were treated there. Several persons were not injured seriously enough to require hospital treatment.

The accident came during a heavy, wet snowstorm. A spokesman for the commuter line said the operator of the train that hit the waiting train applied brakes but "kept sliding."

At least 20 ambulances raced to the scene in city square, across the inner harbor from the old North Church where the lanterns signaled the start of Paul Revere's famous ride just before the Revolutionary War.

Ferdinand Strauss 2d, assistant director of the hospital, said most of the injured would be able to go home today after treatment. A few would be kept overnight, he said.

Only One Contest In School Board Race

Charles L. Campbell, LaMonte, is running unopposed for a seat in the upcoming school board election and will represent the western district of Pettis County, while Dr. T. S. Hopkins, 524 South Grand, and David Eisenstein, 600 Maple Lane, are opposing each other for a berth from the eastern district.

Only two board members will be elected, each to a three-year term. Other members of the board whose terms are not up as yet are Albert Anderson and Jerry Luchs from the eastern district, and Smith Higgins and Earl Gregory from the west.

The election will be April 4.

Hoffa looked long and hard from the back seat, flanked by two marshals, as the car passed the big, plush marble Teamsters Union headquarters that was his seat of power for 10 years.

He still is president of the 1.8 million-member Teamsters, the world's largest union.

Hoffa was accompanied by U.S. Marshal Luke Moore and two deputy marshals in a car followed by another car containing two more deputies.

Hoffa, 54, after surrendering to Moore, spent a brief time in a federal cell block before being driven by car from the U.S. courthouse.

Hoffa left still claiming his 1964 conviction was a "conspiracy" in a 10-year federal effort to put him behind bars.

"I hope and trust that all those who are part of that conspiracy realize the fact that it isn't Hoffa. It's purely a question of power." (Please Turn to Page 4 Col. 3)

For Water Pollution Control

City Recognized With Certificate

By D. Kelly Scruton

The City of Sedalia was recognized by the American City Magazine which awarded to Sedalia a "Certificate of Merit for Leadership in Water Pollution Control" which in turn was presented to the Sewer Bond Committee by Mayor Ralph Walker at the Council meeting, Monday night.

Mayor Walker praised the committee, saying it has worked under 3 mayors and provided a most outstanding job which in turn has brought national recognition to Sedalia. He had the Rev. W. P. Arnold, chairman of committee, and Maurice Hogan, a member, approach the rostrum where he read the certificate and made the presentation to the Rev. Mr. Arnold.

He accepted the beautifully framed certificate and said: "This should be exhibited where all Sedalia can see it. It was not the committee which made this possible, but all Sedalia, because they voted the $3-million bond issue which made it possible."

The certificate commended George Higgins and the Burns and McDonnell Engineering Co., in pioneering the work in Sedalia.

For Curb-Guttering

A petition for curb and guttering in the 1200 block on Liberty Park Blvd., was read before the Council and approved following a brief discussion. It was pointed out one petitioner failed to sign the petition. He resides at a point between where the present curb ends and where the new curbing begins. The petition was approved.

Bids on furnishing the city with gasoline were received from seven major oil companies, Continental Oil Co., Texaco, Mobil Oil Co., Herrick Oil Co., Skelly Oil Co., Sinclair Oil Co., and the Gulf Oil Co. Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My brother says I am out of my mind. If you agree with him I will go to a psychiatrist. The problem is that I hate guns and see no reason for young children to be taught that guns are toys and killing is fun.

My husband's brother has two pre-teen-age sons. Their home is filled with toy guns as well as real ones. I keep having nightmares that the boys will mistake a real gun for a toy one of these days. I have told my brother and his wife of my fears and they say I am crazy.

It seems to me that in the last few years the papers have reported a shocking number of killings by emotionally disturbed people who had easy access to guns and knew how to use them. My brother and his wife insist that every boy should be raised with a gun so he will accept it as a part of his life. Do you have any views on this? — CRAZY AUNT

Dear Aunt: You bet I do and I've expressed them in this space in the past but I am happy to do so again.

Why on earth guns should be a part of anyone's life is beyond me. Guns are for killing.

What this country needs is some decent gun laws. I welcome this opportunity to ask my readers to write their congressmen and senators and urge them to pass federal legislation placing strict curbs on the sale and shipping of guns from one state to the other.

What can be done about the nuts who already have guns is another problem. But we can and we MUST do something about the flagrant sale of guns to anyone who has the price to buy one in a store or through a mail-order catalogue.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has always been a finicky eater but lately he has become worse and it is getting me down.

Charles carries a small magnifying glass in his pocket and every time he sits down to a meal he pulls out the magnifying glass and examines the silverware, the bread (looking for mold he says) and even the butter. With salads he is impossible. He turns over every lettuce leaf and every sprig of parsley. So far as I know he has never found anything but he always pushes the salad away "just in case."

I can tolerate this kind of behavior at home but he started to do it out in company and it can make a hostess pretty nervous. Last night we were invited to a lovely dinner party at the home of a socially prominent couple. I asked Charles to please leave the magnifying glass at home and he said, "No, I would not eat a thing without examining it."

He whipped out the magnifying glass as usual and everyone thought it was a gag and roared with laughter. I was humiliated to death. Please tell me what to do. — MORTIFIED WIFE

Dear Wife: Obviously Charles has a hang-up and there is nothing you can do about it, so resign yourself. Compulsive food inspectors are a neurotic breed, but so long as Charles' neurosis doesn't spill over into other areas, be thankful the bat in his belfry is of the harmless variety.

US Buildup Is Almost Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has just about completed its buildup of infantry-type forces in South Vietnam, military officials said today.

They said these forces should be sufficient to neutralize Communist main force units.

Further increases in U.S. arms strength in Vietnam will be concentrated in support and combat support elements, they said.

These will include more artillery to back up the infantry, more helicopter companies, more ground transportation outfits, more supply handling units and a wide variety of roundout detachments.

The helicopter fleet, key to U.S. ground troops ability to strike far and wide, will go from the present level of about 2,000 choppers to perhaps 3,200.

The pace of the over-all U.S. buildup has slowed as the leveling process sets in.

About 11,000 nonreplacement men landed in South Vietnam last month, compared with 15,000 in January and 27,000 in December.

Total strength Feb. 25 was 415,000. The planned buildup is due to reach about 470,000 by the end of this year.

These projections hinge on the expectation that there will be no dramatic changes in the character of the war, officials said.

They also are geared to the hope that the South Vietnamese armed forces will start shouldering their full load in dealing with local Viet Cong units and guerrillas, they added.

A senior military officer said "we are going well" in the "search and destroy" campaign against main force North Vietnamese and Viet Cong elements.

Questions Asked About New Moves

LONDON (AP) — Is Prime Minister Harold Wilson, the "master politician," losing his grip? Or has he made a calculated move to force the Labor party's rebellious left wing into line?

Political quarters are asking these questions in advance of a crucial testing of the Labor government's popularity in special elections Thursday in three widely separated districts.

The polling in Glasgow, South Wales and the industrial English midlands will fill parliamentary seats left vacant by death or resignation. The midlands and South Wales are considered safe Labor seats, but the Laborites are likely to lose in Glasgow.

Overshadowing the electoral question mark are queries raised by the apparent disarray of Wilson's party in Parliament following the almost unprecedented tongue-lashing the prime minister gave his followers last Thursday.

This came after 63 Laborite legislators, by abstaining, refused to support the government's defense policy in a critical vote Tuesday night. The government's theoretical majority of 95 votes in the House of Commons fell to 39 amid jubilant shouts of "resign, resign!" from opposition Conservatives and Liberals.

What stung most in Wilson's tirade Thursday to a party caucus was his likening the abstainers to dogs.

"Dog metaphors are usually a mistake in democratic politics," the Times later commented.

Wilson told the abstainers: "All I say is 'Watch it.' Every dog is allowed one bite, but a different view is taken of a dog that goes on biting all the time."

He threatened to dissolve Parliament if the backbenchers continue opposing his government's policy.

The Financial Times suggested "the prime minister's savage rebuke to his rebellious followers on Thursday night was symptomatic of the government's growing sensitivity to criticism."

Of the 63 abstainers, 11 came from the party's right wing and center. The others were left-wingers. Some wondered if Wilson was reminding the leftists they have nowhere to go if excluded by the Laborites and that he can get along very well without them.

Wilson's problem is that his administration so desperately needs a foreign or domestic policy success. Peace in Vietnam seems no closer; the rebel Rhodesians are still in power; the Common Market seems just as firmly closed to British entry. Britain's ardent support for a projected American-Soviet treaty to curb the spread of nuclear weapons is embroiling her with the French, Italians and West Germans.

At home, improved exports have been obscured by the continuing rise in unemployment. The continuing economic crisis and heavy defense spending has meant curtailment of the party's cherished social welfare program.

Disillusionment with the government may show up in Thursday's polling.

Begins New Century With Thanks

By MILLER DAVIS
Miami Herald Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Harry R. Mason began his second century today thanking God for plain food, electric power and Teddy Roosevelt.

Together, they kept him healthy, warm and inspired, and Harry has no regrets.

In his 100 years, he has seen three-fourths of the world, tasted most of its delights and sorrows, and he does not want to live to be 110.

"Enough is enough," he says. "I don't want to wear out my welcome." Death, when it comes, will wear a smile, he believes.

Mason was born March 6, 1867 in Greenwich Village, N.Y.—four weeks before Russia sold Alaska, and two years after President Abraham Lincoln was assassinated. Harry lives in a retirement village near Miami.

He is still alert and took the commotion of his birthday celebration Monday with patient good humor.

Pharmacist, world traveler, and fan of mineral baths and vegetable juices, Mason was turned down when he applied for life insurance 79 years ago. He was 21 at the time.

"There is a certain satisfaction in fooling the experts," he says.

He remembers the advent of electric power. "It lighted and warmed our lives," he said.

He remembers how his life changed when he read Bernard McFadden's Physical Culture magazine. From then on it was plain food, plenty of exercise, and no candy. Candy has not touched his lips since.

He remembers Teddy Roosevelt as president, as Rough Rider, as "a man who said what he meant, and meant what he said."

Harry Mason's philosophy is uncomplicated: "Take each year," he says, "and enjoy it to the fullest. And thank God for the privilege."

Will Veto Gambling Legislation

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller says he plans to veto a bill that would permit casino gambling in four private clubs at Hot Springs.

Rockefeller, amid charges that he had agreed to let the bill become law without his signature, said Monday night in a recorded interview he would veto the measure today if the Senate did not recall it before it adjourned Monday.

The Senate did not recall the bill, and Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs, one of its sponsors, said he would ask the legislature to override any veto. He did not say when he would attempt to do it.

Hurst charged in a Senate speech that Rockefeller told him and others on several occasions that he would not sign the bill, but that neither would he veto it. The governor has five days in which to veto the measure or let it become law without his signature.

About 200 persons gathered in the rotunda of the state Capitol Monday to ask Rockefeller to veto the bill, which would create a five-member commission to license private clubs and regulate their operation. The clubs would be permitted only in Hot Springs. They would pay an annual $10,000 license fee and an 8 per cent gross receipts tax.

In a taped speech over 10 television stations in Arkansas, Louisiana and Tennessee, Rockefeller said he intended to see that flagrant, illegal gambling was stamped out in Arkansas.

Truman Hartman and Harry Minturn, both of California, have filed for members of the California R-1 School Board. The ballot is left open until March 27.

Dr. Richard B. Fuls and Eugene Wittenberger, each who have served six years as members, are not candidates for reelection. Dr. Fuls has served as president of the board.

Russian Is Back With His Fleet

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — A Soviet fishing captain who was fined $5,000 in District Court for fishing in U.S. territorial waters was back with his fleet today.

Judge James A. Von Der Heydt levied the fine Monday against Nicolai G. Zernov after the Russian pleaded no contest to a charge of violating territorial waters.

Zernov was given 14 days to pay the fine. It was not made clear what steps would be taken if he failed to pay.

After the fine was imposed, the Coast Guard flew Zernov and Vasily Guzenko, the commander of the fleet to which Zernov's trawler is assigned, to Kodiak.

The two were taken by the Coast Guard cutter Storin from Kodiak to Zernov's boat which was waiting just beyond the three-mile limit.

Zernov's boat was seized by the Coast Guard last Thursday south of the Alaska Peninsula. The vessel was escorted to international waters Saturday.

Alaska Gov. Walter J. Hickel was highly critical of the fine levied against Zernov.

"It sounds like a measly amount for a situation of this kind," he said. "I doubt the federal government even recovered its costs."

Hickel recommended a fine of at least $10,000 and a year in jail for the ship's captain.

The mayor told about a handwritten ordinance he had been handed the past few days which was written on Oct. 15, 1867 to suppress gaming and gaming houses — "It is nearly 100 years now that we had a new ordinance passed for this," the mayor said.

The mayor also noted the com-

Industrial Report Heard By Council

The February report of William H. Hall, director of the Department of Industrial Development of the City of Sedalia, was given to the City Council, Monday night. The report was introduced by Councilman James Askren and was read by City Clerk Ralph Dedrick.

The report is as follows:

"The month of February has perhaps been the busiest month for the Department of Industrial Development since the establishment of the office. Quite a number of calls were received with interest in industrial sites during the month; five new files were set up for industrial prospects, which included mailing out at least three plant location studies.

"On top of securing information for various agencies, the Industrial Office has been busy locating new areas of endeavor, which included a number of things indirectly related to industrial development.

"The results of previous personal contacts to industrial prospects apparently seem to be gaining interest and momentum. During the month the director called on several new industrial prospects, and was fortunate in talking personally to several others.

"The Community Betterment Program is gaining steam here in the area, especially beautification and social development. New interest has been revitalized in the Economic Development Committee of Community Betterment, all of which are prime prerequisites to further industrial and economic expansion in Sedalia and Pettis County.

"As has been mentioned, there has been an extreme amount of activity through the Industrial Office, a lot of it is as yet on drawing boards and cannot be made public at the present time.

"During the month the industrial director attended a meeting of the Community Teachers Association at Smith - Cotton High School and talked about total involvement of the community in the Community Betterment Program. The Director also met with the Social Development Committee of the Community Betterment Program and the Economic Development Committee of the Community Betterment Program.

"On behalf of the city and the county, the director, along with judges of the Pettis County Court and the mayor and city engineer for Sedalia, attended a public hearing in Marshall relative to regional planning.

"The department has been cooperating in the past month with the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce in helping to provide information to produce a color brochure on the Sedalia area, which is being produced by the Chamber through Windor Publications, Chicago. The finished brochure will provide a beautiful, color booklet describing the community and its facilities. It should be a tremendous help in promoting Sedalia as a place for a new plant site.

"There is still a need for more and more people in the Sedalia area to be more involved in community activities and to be more sold on the community as a whole. We are looking forward to a great year in 1967 for industrial expansion, and the outlook is bright, probably with more optimism now than at any time since the establishment of the Department of Industrial Development.

"As we have an opportunity to gain more and more information for industrial prospects we should also be aware and extend thanks and appreciation to at least five of our major industries who have been extremely cooperative during the month of February in helping to provide additional information. Without the existing industry, our town would not have much of an opportunity to provide the kind of information that most industrial prospects want.

"William H. Hall, Director"

ing election and stated, "I think this group of men has been an exceptionally fine Council. If any of you intend to run again I hope the two parties do not get involved in a bitter campaign. I have seen in the past what it not only does to a Council, but what effect it has on our city. In closing I want to take this opportunity to applaud the work and cooperation of you gentlemen have given me as mayor."

The mayor then called attention to an 80 page report on a personnel study which was completed for the city departments. "This, gentlemen, will take several hours for us to go over and consider and we will do it at a later time," the mayor concluded.

Magistrate Court

Charges of fraudulently obtaining funds were dropped against Jerry Dale Boggs, Hannibal, in Circuit Court action Monday. Prosecuting Attorney Henry Keeler and Pettis County Sheriff Emmett Fairfax said.

Boggs was charged in a state complaint with obtaining $480 from Mrs. Cora Zimmerschied, Smithton, for clean-up work after stating previously that the work would cost $25. A check made out to Boggs was cashed at a Smithton Bank. An employee of the bank obtained the license number of the car Boggs was driving, leading finally to his apprehension.

The disposition of the case here Monday was made after Boggs apparently made full restitution to Mrs. Zimmerschied. Keeler said local charges were dropped in view of this fact, as well as the matter that Boggs faces criminal charges in Hannibal.

The case in Hannibal is not related to the local incident, which took place Feb. 1, Keeler said.

Small Chance For An Early Peace Seen

NEW YORK (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, back from a visit to the Far East, says he sees little chance for an early peace in Vietnam.

The road to peace appears "rocky and difficult," the chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations told newsmen at Kennedy Airport Monday night during a stopover en route to Washington to see President Johnson.

Warning against impatience, Goldberg said "we must persevere" in efforts to induce the Viet Cong and its supporters to negotiate.

He said the crux of the problem is a will to resolve the conflict.

"We have that will," Goldberg added. "And when that will is matched on the other side, then the promise of peace will be more promising."

Thus far, he said, "no serious proposal for ending the fighting" has been received by this country. He said the United States will "take the first step" upon the receipt of any signal from Hanoi of a willingness to negotiate.

"The way to stop fighting is for everybody to stop fighting," Goldberg declared. "What's required is a mutual de-escalation. The United States must reassert that the door is open for an honorable and just peace. No one can make peace unilaterally. All violence must stop."

Goldberg's appraisal of peace prospects after his fact-finding mission was similar to the one voiced Sunday by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant after his return from a visit to his native Burma and his first direct talks with North Vietnamese diplomats. Thant said the war promises to be "prolonged and bloody." He said he saw no prospect for peace without a stop to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

Goldberg said he hopes to confer with Thant after the trip to Washington.

Hold Youth In Probe Of 2 Shootings

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — A youth just acquitted in the sniper shooting of another Rockford teen-ager was being held today, charged with murder in the execution-style slaying of two 14-year-old cousins.

Police arrested John Wesley Williams, Jr., 17, son of a former sheriff's deputy, a his job Monday. Police said they believed others were involved in the double murder and questioned at least 10 of Williams' friends. No other arrests were made.

Sheriff Herbert Brown said police confiscated a .22 caliber rifle equipped with a telescopic sight and a homemade silencer in Williams' home. He said a .22-caliber pistol which Williams' father had given him one day before the slayings had not been found.

The rifle was sent to a state crime laboratory for comparative tests with the .22-caliber bullets fired into

Bureaucrats Targets For Castro

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro has resumed the fight against bureaucracy in his government. This time, he says, he intends to win.

"There will be no blood shed to win the battle against bureaucracy, but there will be sanctions," Castro told the country.

A week later the Communist party paper Granma announced more than 30 government administrators had been suspended for violating employment rules.

In announcing a fresh effort to cut red tape, Castro promised: "The revolution (Cuban communism) has returned to take the offensive in the battle against bureaucracy and we are sure we are going to win this battle."

If so, it would represent a sharp reversal from previous efforts.

Hundreds of government workers were removed from their jobs and sent to work at factories or farms when the prime minister and other Communist leaders decreed a fight on bureaucracy almost two years ago.

Since then, by official party estimates, nearly 10,000 ousted employees have returned to the government payroll.

Although few people seem to take his remark seriously, Castro has indicated on at least two occasions it might be a good idea to move the capital from Havana to the little town of Guaimaro in Camaguey Province. He says government buildings in Havana are "full of officinistas (office workers) who have a blind faith in the virtues in Havana are 'full of officinistas (office workers) who have a blind faith in the virtue of paperwork.'"

Says Hanoi Would Take Away Support

NEW YORK (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant says that Hanoi is prepared to withdraw its support from the Viet Cong if the United States withdraws its support from the Saigon government.

"Peace is not yet in sight," Thant told a news conference Sunday after his return from a visit to his native Burma, where he met informally with North Vietnamese representatives.

He said Hanoi views the conflict as a civil war, with the United States and North Vietnam supporting opposing sides. North Vietnam's concept of a reciprocal de-escalation, he said, would be for both sides to withdraw their support.

The United States has said it will halt the bombings of North Vietnam as soon as it receives assurance Hanoi will reduce or cut off its flow of men and supplies to the South.

It is this difference in interpretation of reciprocity, Thant said, that is at the core of problems over peace talks.

Thant said he received no new guarantees from North Vietnam about peace moves and his talks produced no new prospect for peace.

"The North Vietnamese are convinced that their military support will never let them down, whatever the circumstance may be," he said.

People In The News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BOSTON (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Malone Jr. had their grief turn to joy when news that their son had been killed in Vietnam turned out to be wrong.

A Marine captain told them earlier Saturday that their son, Thomas, had been killed in fighting at Dong Ha.

He returned several hours later to say it had been a mistake and their son's name had been put on the wrong list.

He told the Malones their son had been wounded, but not seriously, and had returned to combat after treatment.

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth, flies today on a tour of bushfire-devastated southern Tasmania after a first-hand experience of a bushfire near his quarters.

Philip was lunching Sunday with John Lithgow, captain of the Lilydale (Victoria) Rural Fire Brigade, when an alarm was sounded for a nearby grass fire.

Philip and Lithgow drove to the fire, and aided in getting a water tanker started. It had stopped with fuel trouble.

CIVIL WAR racked Russia after the Bolshevik Reds took power, and faced an opposition called the Whites. Like the Red Chinese now do, Russians read of the events on posters, lower left. By 1920, the Reds had won, and could unfurl their flag virtually unopposed, as a group of them did in Moscow Square, below. Two decades of shaky relations with Western nations threatened world conflict after World War II, but the Bolsheviks, or Communists, now have more amiable relations with the West. Below right, Premier Alexei Kosygin, U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, and British Ambassador Geoffrey Harrison met recently to sign a nuclear arms ban in outer space.

The Coup That Shaped History

Russian Communists observe the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution Nov. 7. Though the coup put the Reds in power, its beginnings date back to the massacre of Russians by the czar's troops in 1905, as depicted at left. The czar was forced to abdicate 12 years later, but a provisional government that followed led by Alexander Kerensky, was overthrown by Bolsheviks headed by Lenin and Trotsky.

Holbrook's Portrayal Masterpiece

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hal Holbrook's one-man show is a theatrical masterpiece, tooled and refined to satiric smoothness. For most of 90 minutes Monday night CBS transformed our television sets—almost—to front row theater seats and we watched and listened to a dramatic simulation of a lecture by the celebrated author Mark Twain.

Holbrook looked exactly like pictures of the writer, so sophisticated was his makeup—the bushy mop of white hair, characteristic white suit, dropping mustache slightly yellowed by nicotine from the ever-present cigar, even folds of skin on neck and jawl and veined and knobby old man's hands.

He had the voice of an old man, hoarse, strained and occasionally so low he could scarcely be understood. This was right, and so was the slight tremor of the head since the subject was supposed to be 70 years old.

The words, skillfully chosen from Twain's works also were right. There were liberal amounts of humor, a longish dramatic reading from Huck Finn, rueful reflections on the combative nature of man, thoughts of immortality and even a ghost story.

"Mark Twain Tonight" was one of those treats all too rare in network television. Curiously however, television's use of this performance developed for the theater was not completely satisfying. For one thing, it was taped before an audience whose laughter at times was as obtrusive as the canned guffaws inserted in routine comedies.

And because of the frequency that closeups were used, the living room viewer had a tendency to marvel over the actor's technical skills and the miracle of his makeup when he should have been relishing the wit and wisdom of a worldly old man whose biting opinions on subjects ranging from patriotism to congressmen were as contemporary as today's newspaper.

small screens next season for his fourth series, "Cowboy in Africa." ABC will run the hour show at the top of its Monday night schedule.

The series, produced by Ivan Tors of "Daktari" note, will have Chuck playing an American cattleman with an American Indian assistant raising herds far from the lone prairies.

Interest in "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" on CBS pushed NBC's "Bonanza" completely out of the national Nielsen list of the top 10 programs for the first time in years. The research company's report, issued Monday, had the Cartwrights riding in 15th place. CBS's Red Skelton Show took top honors.

The programs in the top 10 for the two weeks ending Feb. 19 were CBS's "Wizard of Oz" and "Andy Griffith Show," NBC's "Ice Capades," CBS's "Alaska" and "Daktari," NBC's Bob Hope Comedy Hour and a three-way tie for 10th place—"The Jackie Gleason Show," "The Ed Sullivan Show" and "Green Acres," all on CBS.

The Smothers Brothers, surprise hits of the waning season, were in 23rd place.

Two Homes Are... Homier!

It's getting so that if someone invites you to visit his home, you'll do well to ask, "Which one?"

For two million families in the United States now own two homes and the number is increasing by 75,000 a year.

How come?

Well, a second home can be a weekend or vacation recreational retreat—by the sea, by the lake, in the mountains.

Or it can assure year-round climate control—just leave the heat and live in the cool, and vice versa. It can provide new friends, new interests, break the monotony. And it's wonderful medicine for an itching foot.

Most two-homers live within easy distance of themselves — one home for the workday life, the other for the get-away-from-it-all days.

These "be-back-Monday" or "see-you-again-next-summer" folks insist it doesn't cost as much to live both here and there as you might think.

If one of the two homes is strictly for recreational and "let's-get-away-from-the-rat-race" purposes, it can be anything from early uncouth to modern primitive. And even if the two are halfway across the country from each other, neither has to be a mansion.

The National Association of Home Builders predict that by 1980 three out of four families in this country will be two-homers.

And every one of them with two yards to mow? Man, that's living!

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Crippled Classics

When is a classic not a classic? When it is adapted for American schoolrooms, complains English Journal, published by the National Council of Teachers of English.

It cites Mark Twain's "Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" as an example of books that have been simplified and bowdlerized for student readers.

There are at least five student-designed versions of Huck Finn on the market. In all of them, the original has been tampered with to bring the text within the range of readers with a limited vocabulary and to condense the story for the sake of rapid reading.

"There is danger," warns the journal, "of teaching intellectual dishonesty in exposing (students) to these desecrated classics. . . The obvious manner of talking down to young readers in these adaptations only adds insult to mental and emotional injury in a climate bereft of opportunity for esthetic experience and reflection."

"Transmission of our cultural heritage is accomplished partially through the teaching of the classics. Those that have survived have had an intrinsic merit of their own. It should not be snuffed out of existence by precautionary or hygienic measures."

Will Congress Punish Other Bad Boys

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The unseating of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, the Harlem hotshot, raises some awkward questions about other members of Congress who still hold their seats.

What will the House do, for example, about Rep. Mendel Rivers, the powerful House Armed Services Chairman whose drinking problem makes him a potential security risk? He has access to the most sensitive secrets of the Defense Department and Central Intelligence Agency; yet, by any security standard, he can't be trusted with classified information.

Rivers has also treated the Air Force as his private airline, commuting between his homes in Washington and Charleston and flying off on overseas junkets, often as the sole passenger in a huge Air Force jet. "I can swear to having seen Rivers board an Air Force transport alone early on a Monday morning to be flown to Washington," an Air Force officer formerly stationed in Charleston, S. C., told us. "I personally saw him do this about six times only, but I am sure he has done it dozens of times from what was common gossip about the base."

The silver-crested congressman has also accepted favors from defense contractors, including a contribution from Lockheed Aircraft to help erect a monument in his honor in North Charleston. The corporation, whose profits depend upon the military authorizations from Rivers's committee, agreed to pay the balance that local contributors couldn't raise. As it turned out, only $200 was needed, which Lockheed happily tossed in the hat.

Cut-Rate Cars
Rivers also picks up a gleaming new Chrysler Imperial each year for a token $750 payment. We discovered that the $8,000 car is furnished not by Chrysler Corporation directly but by the Chrysler dealer in Charleston — Simmons Motor Co.

Penrose Simmons, son of the owner, would acknowledge only that Rivers received a discount on his Chrysler.

"Everybody gets cars on a cut-rate basis," said the bull-necked Penrose. "I'll sell

CAPE GIRARDEAU MISSOURIAN: A Fringe Benefit. — Some parents who are spending their hard-earned savings to put their offspring through college harbor more than a few qualms about facets of higher education appearing to have no utilitarian value.

Adults might be impressed by statistics which prove that university graduates earn more money than persons with less education, but they sometimes are appalled by what strikes them as frivolous subject matter and ideas which can turn students against the tried-and-true attitudes of their parents.

For what it is worth, the skeptical parents might find some consolation in a recently confirmed fringe benefit of higher education. A national survey reveals that disaffection for television is spreading among the educated.

While the majority of viewers are lapping up TV at a slightly higher rate than they did a year ago a majority of college-educated adults are watching less TV than they did in 1966.

So what do youths learn in college? They learn to turn off television.

Mogul's Hall of Fame

Baseball has its Hall of Fame. So does football. Why not one honoring the outstanding players in the equally rough-and-tumble game of business and finance?

The University of Michigan plans to create just that — a hall of fame recording the names and accomplishments of famous executives. Due to be opened in 1969 at the University's School of Business Administration, the hall will contain plaques, photographs, documents and film biographies of men like Carnegie, Ford, Vanderbilt and others who will be selected by a panel of 200 educators, public officials, businessmen and business writers.

you one for $100 above my cost, and you can drive back to Washington."

He didn't offer to let us leave one, however, for $750 a year — the extraordinary deal that Rivers gets.

Later Penrose introduced his father, white-haired Harold W. Simmons, who, without waiting for a question, simply blurted, "You're a G-d-d-lar!" and walked off.

We will be happy to turn over evidence of Rivers's misconduct to a congressional committee — if the House should decide to treat Rivers, an insider, the same as it treated Powell, an outsider.

Note: The conduct of another House chairman, also from South Carolina, should also be investigated. He is Rep. John McMillan, chairman of the District of Columbia committee, who has used his political influence to arrange locations in D. C. buildings for a vending company in which he is interested.

He also helped insurance salesman Don Reynolds get the performance bond on the $21 million D. C. Stadium. Reynolds previously had arranged the bank mortgage on McMillan's home in Arlington, Va., and had obtained a Ford convertible for him.

After the stadium deal, Reynolds purchased a Cadillac for the congressman. Not until the Washington Post began snooping into the Cadillac purchase did McMillan hastily send Reynolds two belated checks repaying the $5,100 purchase price.

Another Globe-Trotter

American Ambassador Wymberley Coerr recently complained in a telephone call to the State Department that Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., the Senate's most determined globe-trotter, had descended upon our Quito embassy and disrupted his staff with petty questions. They had given the Senator detailed briefing, but he still wasn't satisfied.

Richard Phillips of the embassy staff even made a telephone call to the State Department in Washington for a special document to placate the Senator from Louisiana.

Sen. Ellender, incidentally, rivals Adam Clayton Powell as a globe-trotter and has brought back a small museum of African spears, Grecian urns, and Chinese silks from his travels.

Good Reasons For North Viet Holdout

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration looks baffled by the failure of the North Vietnamese to give some sign they will cool down their part of the war if the United States stops bombing them.

They have a good reason for sticking it out as long as they can, since their goal is to communize all Vietnam. They would have to make concessions and their supporters might lose heart if they stopped fighting to talk peace.

They may have another reason, just as valid to them, for yielding nothing: the hope that if they hang on long enough American politics and public opinion may force the Johnson administration to back down.

They know American public opinion is divided. The antiwar hubbub here, in and out of Congress, is heard around the world. No wonder if the North Vietnamese believe, given time, the antiwar opinion will prevail.

Nor would it be a wonder if both political parties take on a more dove-like look as the American presidential election draws near if by then the antiwar feeling grows more intense here.

What would you think about your war chances if you were a North Vietnamese and saw or heard what follows in one day, one week, or a month?

Two Democratic senators, Thomas J. McIntyre, N.H., and Robert C. Byrd, W.Va., solidly backed President Johnson's decision to use Navy guns against North Vietnam. But another Democrat, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Pa., was unhappy.

He wanted Congress to make it necessary to declare war before continuing the bombing raids. He spoke three hours. But Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., was against the idea.

Such a declaration, he said, might bring into force treaties involving the Soviet Union, Red China, and others in the hostilities. At the same time he hit at Johnson for being too soft, saying he had been victimized by false peace rumors.

Another Southern Democrat, Sen. John L. McClellan, of Arkansas, wanted to see the bombing stepped up. But not Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat and constant critic of Johnson. He said you can't seek peace with bombs.

In the House 11 Democrats opposed the bombing. Michigan State University faculty members called for a halt to it. Anti-war demonstrations continue around the country.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, another Arkansas Democrat and a constant Johnson critic, suggested it might be more profitable to bomb North Vietnam's bicycles, rather than its bridges, since the Communists depend on bicycles so much.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara publicly admitted the bombing had not stopped North Vietnam's supplies to the south but thought the bombing helped South Vietnam's morale. A Republican, Rep. H. R. Gross, Iowa, complained the bombing wasn't tough enough and said Johnson had "diabolically shackled our fighting men," besides having a "no-win" policy.

But New York's Republican senator, Jacob K. Javits, wanted the bombing stopped and urged Republicans to become a party of peace in presidential 1968, saying they could right Johnson's mistakes and end the war. He also suggested the Viet Cong be allowed into the South Vietnamese government.

But the Republican Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., wanted no part of that. He posted a challenge to any peace conference which included Viet Cong. Another Republican disagreed. This was a new senator, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, who said "you must negotiate with those you're fighting."

Edwin O. Reischauer, former U.S. ambassador to Japan, urged Americans to keep the war out of the 1968 election because, if pressed for an end to it in the next 18 months, they might agree to an unwise settlement.

And most recently New York Democratic senator, Robert F. Kennedy, irked Johnson no end by suggesting this country end the bombing and wait—he didn't say how long—to see if the North Vietnamese would then show peace signs.

In reopening the bidding, beware of reopening against opponents who may have stopped because their hands don't fit.

South was smart enough to pass after East's two diamond call. When East dropped the bidding at two spades, South acquired a false feeling of security. South felt that he could and should bid three clubs.

West was delighted. He had been reconciled to the idea of playing a nice spade part score. Now he found himself defending against a hand that was certain to go down several tricks.

West opened the king of spades and continued with a low one. He did not want to drop the queen in case East held it. East ruffed and cashed his ace and king of diamonds. Then he led the five of hearts.

South's nine forced West's king. At this point West could have led a low spade for East to ruff with the queen but West wasn't looking at all the cards. He returned a heart.

South won and played ace and one club. This held the defense to eight tricks and South was down only 700 instead of 900 that perfect defense could have cost him.

South's three-club call had nothing to commend it. Both opponents had shown strength, but they had stopped at two spades. Obviously there was something they didn't like about the hand and that something had to be lack of support for each other. South could be almost sure that he would be doubled and while a four-trick set was a trifle high he certainly should have expected to go down at least two tricks.

Wrong Questions Surest Way To Get Foot In Mouth

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the surest ways to put your hoof in your mouth in this world is to ask the wrong questions.

Being inquisitive is a sign of intelligence. It reflects innate curiosity, the hallmark of learning. Who would want a child that didn't ask questions?

But it is also a test of maturity to learn to know what question to ask, and where, and when.

Some questions simply aren't worth asking because they are bound to lead to nothing but trouble.

Such as: "What if it is a one-way street, officer? I'm only going one way, ain't I?"

"Are you asking for volunteers for this patrol, lieutenant?"

"Does it mean that I'll get more money back if I bet on a horse to win than if I bet on him to place or show?"

"Why don't you try picking on someone your own size, you big bully?"

"Sez who?"

"Who was the lady I saw you with last night — or was it your wife?"

"Harry, tell me the truth —

how do you really think I'd look in a miniskirt?"

"How many shares of this growth stock would I have to buy now to be able to retire in five years?"

"Whose turn is it to buy a round?"

"Did the children behave today?"

"Would you mind telling me frankly what you think my future with the firm is, sir?"

"How much do you really need?"

"What do you want a diamond engagement ring for, Myrtle? Wouldn't you just as soon have a good slave ring to wear in your nose?"

"Let's don't break up the party now. Why don't we all go over to our house and keep it going?"

"You don't suggest that I go on a diet, do you, doctor?"

"That's a swell idea, boss, but it'll take an awful lot of time. Whom do you have in mind to carry it out?"

"If it was good enough for my mother, why isn't it good enough for you?"

"Shall we draw straws tonight to see who carries out the garbage?"

Business Closer To Spring Than Any Calendar Today

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring's green is spreading northward now, and workers weary of winter gaze idly from office, lab and factory windows, hatching plans for verdant lawns.

The spring frostline — the average date of the last killing frost — is now somewhere along a line from South Carolina to New Mexico, but farther west it passed a month ago from Southern California.

It is still two weeks to spring by the calendar, but not for dreaming and not for business.

The business of spring seems to beat the robins North by a wider margin each year as power mower companies, seedsmen, fertilizer salesmen and nurserymen compete for a market that now must total $3 billion.

The estimate is a difficult one to arrive at, for the lawn and garden business is one of vague boundaries, and its size depends on whether you include items such as swimming pools and power tools. The $3 billion estimate does not.

The business is still relatively young, made up of a few large seedsmen and equipment manufacturers, but interspersed with many thousands of small and sometimes seasonal businesses. It is, however, becoming more sophisticated.

For years it was aimed at helping people with the boring chore of keeping the grass cut. Psychology was largely ignored. Lawn mowers were meant to cut the grass and nothing else.

But the smart companies now stress comfort, style, image, competition. Let your neighbor see you astride a four-blade rotary mower purring at 4,000 revolutions a minute.

This industrialization of the lawn has, however, threatened to make the yard as hazardous as the kitchen or the bathroom. Soon the number of power mowers in use will top 25 million. Injuries are rising.

A Senate subcommittee claims that although 80,000 people are badly burned from kitchen skillets, 100,000 a year are hurt by power mowers.

A study at Michigan State University indicates that in a recent year more than 50,000 toes and 18,000 fingers were amputated. The Senate subcommittee claims that two of these amputees were senators.

Thus, in this age of consumerism, the power mower makers, the Congress and insurance companies, in varying degrees, feel the purchaser must be protected from still another hazard of life. Legislation may be forthcoming.

It is ironic that this seems to be the fate of a business that, after all, may have its roots somewhere in man's desire for a patch of serenity amidst all the whirling machines.

It's a long way from the peaceful days when crabgrass was the big concern.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Mongolia is one of the world's least densely populated countries. Bigger than Alaska, it has an area of 626,000 square miles but a population estimated in 1963 to be only 1,019,000 — 1.6 persons per square mile. According to The World Almanac, many of the people are nomadic and the chief industry of the country is livestock raising. Other activities include food processing, wool-cleaning, shoemaking and mining.

Miniskirts Riotous In Viet Nam

SAIGON (AP) — You don't see many miniskirts in Saigon, but when you do they look might mini.

The traditional dress in Vietnam is the ao dai with high neckline, long sleeves and pantaloons to the shoetops. The ao dai covers up everything.

In the midst of all that, the mini looks like a bikini at a full dress ball.

Heads turn, boys goggle and the oldsters cluck as a pair of legs — uncovered! above the knee! — step smartly along the tree-lined streets.

When honey blonde and shapely American entertainer Chris Noel pranced in her miniskirt through Saigon's Central Market, the eyes of the fish peddlers nearly popped into their bass baskets.

It isn't that the mini is so terribly much more sexy. The ao dai, although it covers a lot, has plenty going for it. The mini has novelty appeal and foreign flavor, besides what it does for the shapely.

A serious young Vietnamese lawyer reflects the thinking of the traditionalists: "I sometimes like to see the miniskirt, but I certainly wouldn't want my girl friend to wear one. The ao dai is much better, more discreet. The miniskirt is just a fad."

An attractive secretary has another view.

"I was shocked when I first saw a miniskirt four or five months ago, but now I think they're great," she said. "It's the new style. I'd love to wear one, except everyone in my office would make fun."

"What I have done, though, is shorten the hem on a couple of my European dresses. Every week I take them up another inch or so — now they come just above the knee. My mother hasn't noticed yet, but I don't think I can go much higher."

Kansas Gathers Big Eight Basketball Championship

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kansas wrapped up the Big Eight basketball championship and NCAA tourney berth by beating Colorado in a rough-and-tumble game before an unruly crowd of 14,500 at Lawrence, Kan., Monday night, while Nebraska gained an edge in the scramble for an NIT bid.

Nebraska clinched at least a share of second place at 10-3 by beating Oklahoma State 88-71 at Lincoln. Kansas State title Colorado for third at 9-4 and helped its NIT chances with an impressive 81-68 victory at Iowa State. Oklahoma beat Missouri at Norman 90-75 with Don Sidle scoring 42 points.

The NIT isn't committed to taking the Big Eight runner-up, said Wayne Duke, the league's Executive director, and might choose one of the three Big Eight clubs prior to Saturday's windup of the league race, which finds K-State at Kansas and Nebraska at Colorado. The NIT is holding open a spot in next Monday's quarterfinals for the Big Eight team.

It was the 20th league title won or shared by Kansas since the Big Eight was formed in 1928 and the Jayhawks won 13 more crowns in the old Missouri Valley starting in 1908.

"I got a big kick out of watching these young players develop," said Kansas coach Ted Owens. "Last year, I'd have been disappointed if we didn't win it. Before this season a lot of people didn't expect us to go all the way again."

Kansas has a 12-1 record, a 21-3 season mark and is No. 3 in the nation. Colorado coach Sox Walseth was a gracious loser despite the crowd and the fact the team's dressing room was broken into before half-time. Missing were wrist watches and an undetermined amount of money. A window was broken.

ken. He declined to let his players comment on the incidents. "Kansas has a good defense, good offense, fine rebounding and what else is there," Walseth said. "They are tough to crack."

The final score of 66-59 wasn't indicative of the game. Colorado trailed 32-25 at halftime, came out with fire and pulled up 36-35 but never caught up, although Pat Frink, a 27-point scorer, made nine straight points at the finish. Rodger Bohnenstiel had 21 for Kansas.

After Frink fouled a Kansas player late in the game, a Kansas cheerleader grabbed Frink, Owens apologized to Walseth for this incident. The crowd became unruly and threw paper cups when Kansas got three starters in foul trouble early in the last half.

Sidle hit 15 of 24 field shots, 12 of 21 foul shots and grabbed 17 rebounds. He reached 1,006 in career scoring, fifth man in league history to do it his junior year. Don Smith scored 29 and grabbed 22 rebounds for Iowa State, but K-State hit 56 per cent from the field.

Coach John Wooden made that response after learning that his basketball squad was named No. 1 in The Associated Press' final major college basketball poll of the 1966-67 season.

Wooden added: "It's possible that other teams are also deserving, but certainly we rank with the very best. Our improvement has been consistent all year long."

"I am well aware that there are many fine teams which may be able to beat us on a given night, though."

The Bruins, unranked last season, were named the top team by all 30 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the poll. The squad boasts a 25-0 record.

Finishing second was Louisville, followed in order by Kansas, North Carolina, Princeton, Western Kentucky, Houston, Tennessee, Boston College and Texas Western.

Smithton, Warsaw Both Beat Foes

Basketball and volleyball were highlighted Monday night in the La Monte Elementary School Tournament. Coming through with wins in the basketball encounters were Warsaw and Smithton.

Warsaw took a 29-27 victory over Stover in the first game as Stowe and Bunch each scored nine points. Boeshen had 13 for the losers.

Smithton, with McCutchen bagging 13 points, whipped Sacred Heart of Sedalia 47-33. Hemp led Sedalia with 13 points.

In volleyball action, Warsaw mauled Stover, 42-19. Kincaid was leading server for the winners with 18 points, while Tippin, Whitefall and Kerkisek each had four for the losers.

Sacred Heart rebounded from their basketball defeat to pound Smithton 40-32. Barr and Eckhoff had nine points in the winning effort for Sacred Heart, while Templemire and Green each had seven for Smithton.

Tuesday night Lincoln will oppose Cole Camp and La Monte will take the floor against Green Ridge in basketball and volleyball encounters.

S-C Faculty Trounces All-Stars

The Smith-Cotton High School faculty trounced the senior class All-Stars in the annual Faculty All-Star basketball game, 74 to 53, Monday evening in the Smith-Cotton gymnasium.

The game, sponsored by the SC Letterman's Club, featured faculty cheerleaders, a 16 member cheering team for the all-stars, and a long-awaited special race.

Beginning in the early portion of the first quarter, the faculty snatched the ball and looped a series of long-court shots which gave the faculty the lead for the remainder of the game.

Moving into the second quarter, the faculty continued to dominate the scene by outmaneuvering the all-stars from all angles of the court. Changing their defense a bit, the all-stars were able to put a damper on a few of the faculty attempts and thereby narrowed the score in the latter stages of the second quarter.

Highlighting the half-time activities was the relay-race between "Flash" Braden and "Crazy-legs" Salmons, two SC faculty members. First across the finish line was "Flash" by a thin lead.

Also during the half-time, was the presentation of banners to the school which depict the name, color, and mascot, of each school in the Central Missouri Basketball Conference. The banners are to be posted in the gymnasium and were purchased by the Letterman's Club.

Picking up where they left off, the faculty, led by Foster "Flat-tire" McGuire, drove another series of baskets and brought the third quarter to a close with 66 points to their side.

With the all-stars a bit tangled and confused, they began a futile battle of taking lead by stooping to uncanny techniques.

At one time it was noted that 13 players were on the court for the all-stars and some were riding "piggy-back" hoping to offset the speed and agility of the opposition. Although the tide was not turned, the all-stars brought the game to a close with 53 points to their name.

Score by quarters:
Faculty 22 17 27 8-74
All-Stars 8 21 10 14-53
Individual scoring: All-stars—Tony Murray, 3-0-6; Dwayne Steele, 2-1-5; Terry Hazell, 1-0-2; David Palmer, 1-1-3; Mike Bruns, 2-0-4; David Schmidle, 2-0-4; Cam Jennings, 2-1-5; Mike Kraxburger, 2-0-4; David Rohrbach, 3-1-7; Ray Murray, 2-1-5; Gerald Durnell, 1-0-2; Mike Riley, 0-1-1; Bill Maunders, 1-1-3; Faculty—Earl Finley, 2-0-4; Morris Byrum, 2-0-4; Skip Shultz, 4-0-8; Foster McGuire, 7-1-15; Larry Whiteside, 2-1-5; Ted Brown, 0-1-1; Fred Long, 3-0-6; Wes Sanders, 5-0-10; Bob Edmondson, 2-1-5; James Braden, 2-0-4; Bob Reavis, 3-0-6; Tim Purcell, 2-2-4; Bob Bukkuhl, 1-0-2.

Men's City Competition Underway

The 19th annual Men's City Bowling Tournament sponsored by the Sedalia Bowling Association is underway at Hillcrest Bowling Lanes. The first events of the three-weekend competition started last Saturday with Bill Palmer and Charles Palmer hitting individual series of 643 for a tie.

Bill Palmer leads in the high individual game with a 235 closely followed by Doc Visentine and Al Rosenkoetter, both tied for second each scoring games of 234.

Forty-five teams have already bowled in the first two days of the tournament with 33 more to shoot on Saturday and Sunday, March 11 and 12. The Singles and Doubles competition to be held March 18 and 19.

The first weekend results give the five top teams with Schlitz Beer having the lead with series score of 3,008. Rhodes All-Stars second with a 2,979; followed by Tullis Hall No. 2 with a 2,962; Modern Agencies fired a 2,935 and fifth place Patton's Texaco with a 2,910.

High team score was turned in by Schlitz Beer of 1,110.

Sonny Myers, Ricky Hunter In Shot At Tag Team Title

Sonny Myers and Ricky Hunter two fast-stepping, highly-ranked area wrestling heavyweights, will be shooting for the North American tag team crown tonight in the Convention Hall when they move out against the free-swinging tandem of Bob Geigel and Bob Brown.

Long entrenched as tag team kingpins, Brown and Geigel have not wrestled as much together in recent months as they would have liked. Even so, this has not appeared to cause them any difficulty in title action.

The layoff as a partnership may have its effect when they go against Myers and his partner. Myers will have the added incentive of trying to exact some measure of vengeance from Geigel. It was the balding Iowan who dethroned Myers as Central States titleholder two weeks ago in St. Joseph.

With Hunter on hand to lend speed and power, the challenging tandem will have a good many assets in its favor. Geigel and Brown will be prepared for a rugged defense, knowing they must get the early advantage and press it all the way.

Also scheduled is a battle between the Viking and Tor Kamata. With the Viking expected to make wide use of the thumb jab and Kamata following with his patented judo chops a good deal of swinging is anticipated.

Curvy Betty Niccoli, raven-haired Latin beauty, will also be on hand, this time to do battle with stocky Jean Antone. The two girl grapplers both are accomplished in many ring maneuvers and have a brewing rivalry in the offing.

Three Over-Times

Volunteers Almost Overdo Their Work

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Tennessee Volunteers, trying to extend their basketball season, almost overdid it. Going to extremes to win their first Southeastern Conference title since 1943, the Vols muddled through three overtimes and barely missed a fourth before squeezing by Mississippi State 78-76 at Starkville Monday night.

Now, instead of being further delayed by a three-way playoff for the SEC crown, the Vols can move directly into the NCAA postseason tournament.

Kansas took a much shorter, although precarious, route into the tournament by holding off Colorado 66-59 at Lawrence in regulation time.

But while Tennessee and Kansas ended their conference races, the Big Ten competition stretched on and on.

Indiana and Michigan State each won and remained tied for first place, which will be decided by their final games Saturday, if then.

Each has 9.4 league marks after the Hoosiers staggered past last-place Michigan 96-90 at Bloomington and the Spartans shook off host Minnesota 67-59.

Eighth-ranked Tennessee, which meets the winner of Saturday's Western Kentucky-Dartmouth game in the Midwest Regional March 17, needed two free throws by Bill Justus with six seconds left in the third extra period to get by Mississippi State.

State's Dave Williams almost kept it going, but his shot missed at the final buzzer.

The final game victory gave the Vols a 15-3 conference mark and avoided a three-way tie with Florida and Vanderbilt, each at 14-4 after Vandy dropped Louisiana State 75-66 at Nashville.

Third-ranked Kansas never trailed after breaking a 15-15 tie, but Colorado nipped at the heels of the Jayhawks the rest of the way as Pat Frink scored 27 points.

The victory gave Kansas its 20th conference title with a 12-1 mark and a 21-3 over-all record that it will take against Saturday's Houston-New Mexico State victor in the Midwest Regional March 17.

Colorado, 9-4, fell out of a second-place tie with Nebraska and into a third-place deadlock with Kansas State in its bid for the NIT berth that goes to the conference runner-up.

Nebraska, 10-3, which plays at Colorado Saturday, crushed Oklahoma State 88-71 while Kansas State clipped Iowa State 81-68. Kansas State plays Kansas Saturday.

Indiana blew an 11-point lead and then came from behind on Butch Joyner's 27 points. The Hoosiers took the lead for good at 89-88 and Vern Payne and Bill Russell split four free throws and Joyner hit a three-point play to protect it.

Michigan State broke a 50-50 tie on Matt Aitch's three-point play and a basket by Lee Lafayette, Tom Kondla paced the Gophers with 27 points.

Indiana hosts Purdue and State entertains Northwestern Saturday. Should both fall, the winner of tonight's Iowa-Wisconsin match could make it a three-way tie.

In other games Monday night, Don Sidle scored 42 points as Oklahoma stumped Missouri 90-75, spoiling Tiger Coach Bob Vanatta's final game; Pat Riley fired in 28 points and powered Kentucky past Alabama 110-78; Ohio State trounced visiting Illinois 100-79 despite 27 points by Dave Scholz; Washington beat Oregon 78-67 and Oregon State outlasted Washington State 51-49 in overtime.

Barry Not Only Man Leading Categories

NEW YORK (AP)—With the National Basketball Association season drawing to a close, it's beginning to look as if Rick Barry won't be the only new name that ends up leading a major statistical category.

Barry of San Francisco has the scoring title wrapped up with a 36.3 point per game average and will displace Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia, who has led the league in scoring the last seven years.

Adrian Smith of Cincinnati is well ahead in the free-throw percentage department with an .899 average and Guy Rodgers of Chicago is on his way to displacing Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati as the assist leader.

Rodgers has 823 assists, for an 11.3 per-game average, to 767 and a 10.6 average for Robertson.

TV Catcher Can't Hit Or Miss

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians No. 1 catcher in spring training can't hit but not much gets by him — No. 1 is a television camera, whose job it is to catch mistakes made by players.

In two intrasquad games last weekend, No. 1 caught more mistakes than Joe Azcue, a catcher who can hit, caught balls.

Azcue was having trouble holding on to certain pitches, and his mistakes showed up on the Indians' new instant replay television equipment.

So, Azcue is being given some personalized instruction by former catching stars Del Rice, a Cleveland coach, and Ray Mueller, an Indian scout.

There were no reports concerning television coming out of the St. Louis camp, but the Cardinals did get some apparent good news from a set of scales.

Julian Javier weighed in Monday at 187, prompting Manager Red Schoendienst to say the extra poundage would help Javier's effort to come back as the Cardinals' regular second baseman.

Javier, who has had his best seasons with the Cardinals when he weighed 185, reported to camp the past two seasons underweight. In 1965, he hit just .227 and last year .228.

The news out of the Baltimore Orioles' camp was good, providing your name isn't Mike.

Frank Robinson, the American League's Most Valuable Player last year, hit a single and home run and first baseman Boog Powell collected three hits in the Orioles' first intrasquad game.

But highly regarded rookie Mike Epstein was struck above the right elbow by a pitch in batting practice and Mike Fiore, another outfield candidate, was ordered to report to Ft. Bragg, N.C., today for active duty with the Army reserves.

Of Epstein's injury, club physician Dr. Leonard Wallenstein said:

"There is no bone damage, but it is unlikely that Epstein will be able to swing a bat until Friday. Mike has an ugly blood bruise near the elbow."

News out of the Boston Red Sox base also was good, if you were not trying out for center field with George Thomas, rookie Reggie Smith and Jose Tartabull.

In an intrasquad game, Thomas hit a two-run homer, Smith a three-run blast and Tartabull an inside-the-park homer with a man on.

Expensive Quarterback On New Team

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — It was costly, but Tom Fears has gotten something for the New Orleans Saints that few fledgling pro football teams have — a topnotch quarterback.

Quarterback Gary Cuozzo, 25, one-time Phi Beta Kappa scholar at Virginia and Johnny Unitas' understudy for the past four years, was dealt to the Saints Monday by the Baltimore Colts in a National Football League swap.

Baltimore took its pound of flesh — with a few extra trimmings.

The Colts got the rights for New Orleans' first round selection in the upcoming collegiate draft.

That means the Colts will get the first shot at the cream of the 1966 college seniors — perhaps Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier if the draft is strictly legitimate and the stories that the Florida flinger is reserved for the New York Giants aren't so.

Here's how the Baltimore-New Orleans trade went:

The Colts get two 1967 draft choices, including the Saints' No. 1 choice, plus center Bill Curry, obtained last month from Green Bay in the veterans' pool. Fears, New Orleans' head coach, would not say what round the other draft choice was.

Cuozzo comes to the Saints along with Butch Allison, 22, a guard who played on the taxi squad last season after being the Colts' No. 2 draftee in 1966.

It was no secret to Cuozzo. He had asked to be traded.

"I'm very glad to be given the opportunity to play," said the 6-foot-1, 195-pounder in Memphis, where he attends the University of Tennessee dental school in the off-season.

"I had an agreement with the Colts to trade me," he said. "I don't think I could have gotten to play regularly — barring unforeseen injuries — so I'm pleased about the trade."

76ers Need One More Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was 62 down, eight to go and one needed today for the Philadelphia 76ers.

The 76ers, led by Hal Greer's 32 points, nipped Los Angeles 119-117 at Pittsburgh Monday night for their 62nd victory, tying the Boston Celtics' record for games won in a National Basketball Association season.

Philadelphia, leading the second-place Celtics by 6½ games in the Eastern Division race, have eight games remaining. Boston won 62 in 1964-65.

In other games, Boston won its ninth straight by trouncing Detroit 127-103 at Providence, R.I., and Cincinnati topped St. Louis 129-122 at Memphis, Tenn.

Los Angeles took the lead 109-108 with 3½ minutes left, but Greer then put the 76ers back on top to stay with a jump shot. The Lakers had a chance to tie with 25 seconds left, but Elgin Baylor missed a shot and Wilt Chamberlain's rebound enabled the 76ers to run out the clock.

Rookie Dave Bing's 21 points and Tom Van Arsdale's 18 paced the Pistons, who dropped into a fourth-place tie with idle Chicago in the Western Division.

Oscar Robertson came through with 12 of his 27 points and four of his 15 assists in the last quarter in helping Cincinnati to victory. Rookie Lou Hudson scored a pro career high of 41 points for St. Louis and grabbed 14 rebounds. Jerry Lucas scored 26 for Cincinnati.

The St. Louis loss left the Hawks 8½ games behind San Francisco, clinching the Western Division title for the Warriors.

BASEBALL takes precedence now for Ron Reed of the Atlanta Braves. The rookie righthander has decided to quit professional basketball after playing two years for the Detroit Pistons.

Walker At His Best In Garden

NEW YORK (AP) — Madison Square Garden always brings out the best in Jim Walker, Providence's All-America backcourt flash — and Walker at his best is a revelation.

The slick senior, No. 2 scorer in the country with a 29-point average, has captured two straight MVP trophies in leading the Friars to Holiday Festival basketball titles at the Garden in 1965 and last December.

Saturday afternoon, Walker and the Friars open their bid for the National Invitation Tournament crown, which Providence won in 1961 and 1963. The first hurdle is defense-oriented Memphis State in the opener of a first-round doubleheader that also matches New Mexico and Syracuse.

Marshall meets Villanova and St. Peter's, N.J., takes on Southern Illinois in Thursday night's tourney-opening twin bill. Marquette goes against Memphis State and Rutgers tangles with Utah State Saturday night, completing the first-round action.

Two more entrants, the still-undetermined runners-up in the Big Eight and the Atlantic Coast Conference, begin play in Monday night quarter-final games.

Walker is perhaps the best one-on-one performer in the college game. But the 6-foot-3 scorer-playmaker found himself overmatched on his home court by Villanova's tenacious zone defenses three weeks ago.

"Walker took 20 shots over that zone and made only two of them," Providence pilot Joe Mullaney recalled Monday. "We lost the game 55-52 and afterward someone told me that a couple of our loyal fans were yelling, 'Get that stiff out of there,' in the second half."

"Jim must have heard them. He came back and scored 47 points, then 46, in the next two games. And each of those two

Oklahoma Gets Ready For Big Eight Mat Meet

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma, beaten only once this season and posting an all-time victory mark in dual meets, warmed up for the Big Eight Wrestling Tournament this weekend by slaughtering Nebraska, 40-0, Monday night.

The Sooners are the odds-on favorites to take the league crown, but will still get the usual tough competition from defending NCAA and league champ Oklahoma State and NCAA runner-up Iowa State.

The 17-1 dual match record chalked up by the Sooners represented the most dual victories in a season for either Oklahoma team. The only loss came to Michigan State, 15-12.

Five defending league champions return.

Oklahoma is represented by Bryan Rice at 123 and Wayne Wells at 152, while Oklahoma State boasts Gene Davis at 137 and Jim Rogers at 145 and Iowa State has Vic Marcucci at 160. Davis was the NCAA champ.

The tournament begins Friday night in the OU Fieldhouse. In the conference meet last year, Oklahoma State won it, followed by Oklahoma and Iowa State. In the NCAA, Iowa State nudged the Sooners for second place by a point.

teams played zones against us."

Walker doubtless will get special attention from Memphis State, whose first-year coach, Hank Iba Jr., learned his defensive lessons well from his father at Oklahoma State. The Tigers have allowed only 55.7 points per game — the second best defensive record among the nation's major teams.

Among other standouts likely to battle Walker for individual honors in the 30th NIT are Rutgers sharpshooter Bob Lloyd, 6-foot-9 Mel Daniels of New Mexico, Syracuse's George Hicker, Tulsa's Eldridge Webb, Southern Illinois' Walt Frazer, Utah State's Shaler Halimon and Marshall's George Stone.

Equipment For Dam

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria will buy $22.5 million worth of machinery and equipment from the Soviet Union to build a dam on the Euphrates River in northern Syria, the government announced. The Soviet Union already has agreed to lend Syria $125 million to finance the first stage of the irrigation project and will send technicians to work on the project.

Crusader For Freedom Takes Office

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Donald R. Smith, a bearded exponent of expanded campus freedom, takes office Wednesday as student body president at Iowa State University — until now a fairly placid and conventional sort of place.

A 21-year-old mechanical engineering major, Smith, who once thought highly of Barry Goldwater's politics, was elected on a platform pledged to quash regulations on student activities outside the classroom.

He also called for cheaper textbooks and lower room rentals.

The conservative element has been alarmed both by Smith's beard — a comparative rarity among the academic young of the tall corn country — and his stated aims.

Smith, cribbing a quote from the late Adlai E. Stevenson, said he just wanted to drag ISU "kicking and screaming into the 20th century."

"With the students behind me, we can get things changed," he said.

"I cannot see how locking a woman in her room at 10:30 every night is supposed to make her better able to handle social situations. Our present practice is just a matter of stalling off maturity for four years."

"I believe we should be allowed to grow up. So what if we do make a few mistakes?"

Smith said his liberal outlook is of recent vintage.

"In 1964 I would have voted for Goldwater had I been old enough. At that time I felt the conservatives did most to further the cause of personal freedom," he said.

"Later I saw the light. When conservatives talk about personal freedoms they really mean their own, not mine."

Now, Smith said, he would go to jail rather than serve with the armed forces in Vietnam.

Smith's father runs a rural cooperative in Rockwell City.

Asked what his parents thought of his views, he replied: "They're still sending money."

Newspaper Attacks New Court 'Lock'

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — "The records are considerable where innocent people have been convicted by juries and eventually been freed through the continuing efforts of a newspaper," a publisher says.

Richard H. Amberg, publisher of the St. Louis Globe Democrat, also maintains that "the courtroom belongs to the people — and not to the lawyer" in an attack on what he called "increasing efforts . . . to limit the role of newspapers in our society."

Amberg, in the first annual Jesse W. Fleck lecture at Le Moyne College, said recommendations by an American Bar Association committee "would severely limit what police and lawyers, on penalty of contempt rulings, can tell reporters about pending criminal cases."

"It should be utterly obvious that failure to obtain and print the news, when it is fresh news, hangs a veil of ignorance over the character of crime and criminal issues," he said.

Amberg said lawyers and bar associations were attempting to

LBJ May Reconsider Tax Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources acknowledged today that President Johnson may reconsider his request for a July 1 tax boost if business continues to be sluggish.

This word, perhaps partly intended to reassure nervous businessmen, came from policy advisers who nevertheless stick to the official forecast that the 6 per cent surcharge on income taxes will be needed to curb reviving inflationary forces.

If signs of the anticipated midyear pickup are not visible by April or May, one high administration official said, "We are in a position to modify the surcharge request."

He explained: "If our projections were wrong, we could ask for a smaller surcharge, or no surcharge at all. Or the President's message to Congress could propose a later effective date — say Sept. 1 instead of July 1."

And if the slowdown should become a downturn — a development which government officials reject as well-nigh unthinkable, unless peace comes suddenly in Vietnam — the surcharge plan could even be thrown into reverse. A short-time tax cut could be asked.

The only hard and fast commitment is to the principle of tax flexibility, the official said. Small but frequent tax changes, up or down as needed, are now considered to be a proven, effective, quick-acting, and fairly precise instrument for economic stabilization, he added.

This departure from historic American reluctance to tinker with taxes was noted by the Council of Economic Advisers in its annual report to the President and Congress.

"Annual tax changes have, in fact, become the rule rather than the exception," the council said. But the technique — and especially the President's pending plan — is viewed with suspicion in Congress and with outright hostility by many businessmen.

In passing two anti-inflationary tax bills on short notice last year, Congress showed itself able and willing to break with tradition. Nevertheless, many members fear a 1967 tax increase could bring on a recession; others do not believe in any case that the tax rules should be changed for businessmen and consumers without substantial cause.

The administration argues that a stable economy is more important than a stable tax level. In the immediate future, officials said, the course of policy will be governed by the economic currents.

New economic readings will be taken when first quarter statistics are in hand, it was reported. If the January projections prove to be wrong about the hazard of overheating, the tax prescription will be changed.

keep the processes of justice to themselves.

He added: "Since lawyers are advocates with a partisan intercourt, I submit to you that there are actually only two people in the courtroom, except for the jury, who are interested in the triumph of justice. One of these is the judge and the other is the newspaperman."

He said what was needed "was more information, rather than less."

"The concern of the bleeding hearts and do-gooders and their strange bedfellows, the defense lawyers, for years has been with the criminal," Amberg said.

"They talk piously of the need for a free trial, but what they suggest would lull the public to sleep, keep it unaware of the existence of a crime wave so that they can operate in a better atmosphere to secure acquittal of criminal clients."

Landmark Torn Down

TOKYO (AP) — The electronic board that flashed the news to Tokyo residents for 39 years from atop the Asahi newspaper building has come down, a victim of skyscrapers and competing neon signs. The board, imported from Britain in 1928, was a Tokyo landmark. But a new expressway, skyscrapers and a profusion of neon signs had almost blocked it from view.
